Land with 9700 m² in Cepo, Querença, production of cork and arbutus

We present an excellent opportunity to acquire agricultural land measuring 9700 square meters, 7 km from Querença, 14 km from Loulé, 31 km from Faro and 29 km from Quarteira.

This land stands out for its vocation for cork production, with 50 cork oaks and 40 already established strawberry trees. Currently, cork prices in mainland Portugal vary between 60 and 90 euros per arroba (15 kg) for raw cork, reflecting the growing value of this resource.

Furthermore, the cork market has been on an upward trend, driven by growing global demand, making this an excellent investment opportunity with significant income potential through the sustainable production of cork and arbutus.

Don't miss the opportunity to own agricultural land that offers an attractive passive return in a constantly appreciating market.
